One question we frequently get asked is: "How do you spend your winters? What do you do?" - You may have even asked us this. Well aside from enjoying some downtime & more family time we work on little projects that benefit our clients, like you! So what was our project this winter and why?

Having someone into your home or business you've just met can be a little nerve racking. Some of our clients we never meet as they live out of the area and we look after their homes windows without even ever meeting them. What could we do to address this? Last year it occurred to me, why not make a little video of each of the team members? Give them a sense of who we are before we even show up. So far they have been wildly popular! As far as we know Alpine is the first company in NCW to offer this and we hope you'll check them out!
